THE RESULT IN GEORGIA.

Vol. LXIV.-NO. 39.

POPUCRATS CLAIM 35,000; POPU-LISTS CONCEDE 15,000.

The Popullata Willing to Admit Also That Athinson May Have 20,000 Majority for Governor-There Has Been a Palls ing Off in the Vote-Few Returns Arrive.

ATLANTA, Oct. S .- Although the Popocrats say that trov. Atkinson will have a majority of 35,000 as the result of yesterday's election, those figures are strongly disputed by the Populist State Chairman Cunningham, who declares that when official returns come in Atkinson will not have more than 20,000, and he may not have much more than 15,000.

A noticeable thing about the returns is the heavy falling off from the vote of two years ago, in which the Papulists, led by J. K. Hines, con-tested the field with Atkinson. In that election there were cast 221,000 votes, of which 96,000 went to Hines. These Hines votes were made up of 50,000 Republicans, 40,000 Populista and 6,000 dissatisfied Democrats recruited from the ranks of the Confederate veterans. In the election yesterday, notwithstanding the claimed increase for Atkinson, the aggregate vote has been lighter by 20 per cent... and the votes of both sides show a large falling off. For example, Fulton county was registered for 12,400 votes. She cast only a fraction over 6,000, Of this Atkinson got 3,829 and Wright 2,607. Two years ago Atkinson received 3,048 and Hines 1,519. In Bitb county Atkinson re ce ved only 1,248 this year as against 2,500 two years ago, and there, as in Fulton, 50 per cent.

of the voters stayed at home. At the headquarters of the sound-mone Democrats, National Committeeman Thomas Francis Corrigan was stilling at these figures. Chairman Buck of the Republican State Centrai Committee also seemed to understand the whole matter.

Taking the percentage of absentees as averaged yesterday, more than 40,000 voters did not come out. That would make yesterday's vote 175,000. The returns were tabulated in the county seats to-day, but it will be a week before all the official figures are in.

Chairman Cunningham of the Populist State Chairman Cunningham of the Popullat State Committee has been receiving reports from all pars of the State to-day, and the figures, which are in nearly every instance official, change the morning estimates very materially. His reports from ten counties whose aggregate vote is 20, 600 show an increase for Wright of 1,505 over the estimates published this morning. In four counties atone there is a difference of 654 votes in Wright's favor. The ten counties referred to are Cobb, Fulton, McDoffie, Terrell, Elbert, Clark, Glasgow, Hart, Union, and Marion. They are Populist counties. Basing an estimate upon the changes that have been shown in these counties, Chairman Cunningham says that the same ratio will prevail all over the State when the returns are announced officially.
The Popullats say the returns show that fov. Atkinson ran behind his ticket all over the State and Mr. Wright ran ahead of his. In Fulton county alone, the storm centre of the Democratic campaign, the fovernor's ticket led him by 1,052 votes, while Mr. Wright led his ticket 589 votes.
The heavy Populist counties have not shown their strength yet. If thoy give Wright the same majorities that they gave Hines in 1894 the Populists will be inclined to dispute the election of Atkinson altogether. Cobb county, according to the latest returns, shown a loss of 201 for Atkinson as reported this morning, and a loss of 44 over his vote of 1894.
The chief opposition to Mr. Wright un-Committee has been receiving reports from all is thus explained by his organ, the Atlanta Daily Commercial:

"The chief opposition to Mr. Wright undealstelly grew out of his position on the ilquor question. Had he not been an ardent Prohibitionist, the probability is that he would have been elected. However much a great many people objected to voting for Gov. Atkinson, they preferred to do it rather than to elect any man who would favor different legislation from local option. Gov. Atkinson has evidently ansained a loss of from 17.000 to 25,000 Demotratic votes, and these represent the indignant rotest of the manhood of Georgia against such princious campaigning for votes as has been induiged in by the present so-called leader of the white man's party in Georgia.

It is note to say that this solid vote was cast for him in this race, and the thought is enough to tint every hearthstone in the State with grim-son blushes. In view of these conditions we have contended that Gov. Atkinson has not made an acceptable Governor, and that he would be a most democracy man to relies; to would be a most dangerous man to reclect to this important office. "Let the record of crime during his adminis-"Let the record of crime during his administration for the next two years answer this last position. We predict that there will be more criminal assaults in Georgia during the next two years than there has been in the history of the State for such a length of time, growing out of the dissemination of the Duncan circular. Fearing this, we call upon the manhood of the State to stand guard over the homes of Georgia and protect its womanhood in contemptious disregard to his infernal proclamations against Foch law. We fought Gov. Atkinson yesterday in helialf of the highest interests of the home. We are against him to-day for the same reason. Down with the ring and away with cringing for negro votes by white men."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Senator Marion Butler, Chairman of the National Populist Committee, said to-day." It is almost certain that a majority of the white votes of Georgia was cast for the People's party State ticket.

This sa great gain over the party's last vote and is due to the personal popularity of Tom Watson his low State and to the desire of and is due to the personal popularity of Tom Warson in his own State, and to the desire of the people to rebuke the management of the Democratic party in the State affairs of Georgia, Evidently the Democratic party is indebted to the perny vote for whatever kind of victory they have won."

CLEVELAND'S OUTING OVER. Was at a New York Theatre Last Night

President Cleveland and Private Secretary Thurber, aboard Mr. E. C. Benedict's steam yacht Oneida, with Mr. Benedict acting as skipper, reached New York at 5:45 o'clock vesterday afternoon. The Oneids anchored at the foot of East Twenty-sixth street. Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Benedict, and Mr. Thurber were brought ashore in a steam launch and were met at the dock by Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, Mr.Cleveland's physician. The President, his secretary, and physician drove to Dr. Bryant's house, 54 West Thirtysixth street. Mr. Benedict returned to the yacht.

After dining with Dr. Bryant, Mr. Cleveland went with a party to Daly's Theatre to see "The Gelsha." The party, which included Dr. and Mrs. Bryant, Miss Bryant, and Mr. Thurber, occupied the lower stage box on the north alde of the house.

There was no demonstration of any kind either when Mr. Cleveland entered or left the theatre. Indeed, it is doubtful if a dozen per-

After the play Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Thurber were driven to the Jersey City ferry, and on the other side went up by the freight elevator to the Pennsylvania Railroad Station, where the private car of Vice-President Thomson of the Pennsylvania road, attached to the Owl train, was waiting to convey the President to Washington. The train left at 12:30 A. M.

The Onelda left Greenwich early yesterday morning. It was rough sailing all the way, for the wind blew half a gale from the west. At New Rochelle the Oneida put into the harbor and wind blew half a gale from the west. At New Rochelle the Oneida put into the harbor and anchored.

Shortly afterward the President, in company with Larry Huntington, the local Fish Commissioner, embarked in a small boat to try their luck at troiling for striped bass.

They rowed about between Glen Island and New Rochelle with the troiling spoon trailing in the water at the end of 100 yards of line, but the striped bass were shy. At the end of two hours not a fish had risen to the hair, and the party quit troiling. The boat was anchored off Davenport's Neck, and the President and Mr. Huntington tried their luck at still fishing. They fished and fished, but no base bit, although four or five amateurs from New Rochelle, who were anchored about, were busy pulling in fish all the time. Finally, at 4 o clock in the afternoon, Mr. Cleveland gave up the job. Mr. Huntington rowed him back to the Oneida, and the yacht steamed off to New York.

Mrs. Cleveland spent yesterday at Lakewood at the cottage of Mr. Francis P. Freeman. She came down on the 10:28 train, having left Greenwich yesterday morning, and was accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Stone. Mrs. Cleveland was a very intimate friend of Mrs. Freeman, who died last Saturday.

Being unable to attend the funeral, Mrs. Cleveland took this opportunity to offer her condolences. The President contemplates it is said, taking a cottage in Lakewood for the winter, where Mrs. Cleveland and the children will live and where he will so after March 4.

Mrs. Cleveland returned to New York on the 3:40 train and went hack to Greenwich, where she bit had left the children, and where she will remain for several days as the guest of Mrs. Benedict.

In connection with a report that Mr. Cleveland and the property for a courter lead to the contemplates.

remain for several days as the guest of Mrs. Benedict.

In connection with a report that Mr. Cleveland has purchased property for a country place at Hempstead, L. L. adjoining that of Mr. Whitney, an interesting story was told yesterday by a banker friend of Mr. Cleveland's. It was said that this rumored purchase was really made at the time Mr. Whitney bought the several thousand acres which, as the story went, was intended by the ex-Secretary of the Navy, to be improved and beautifuled until he had the most beautiful country place in America.

It was said yesterday that the real purchasers of this large tract of land were Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Whitney, and Secretary Lamont. They purpose, according to the story, to lar out a park in the land, and to dispose of tracts for the sites of summer cettages as they find suitable purchasers, the idea heing to have on Long Island another Tuxedo. When this story was reported to Dr. Bryant yesterday he said he had heard such reports, but knew nothing about them.

CLEVELAND'S GREENWICH FISIT. He Fishes for Bass and Mourns Over the Democratic Situation,

GREENWICH, Conn., Oct. 8.-President Cleveland was one of the favored few who have been permitted to try their juck with the black bass in futnam Lake. The lake is owned by the Greenwich Water Company, and was stocked with black bass a few years ago, and the fish can be seen glistening in the sunlight on a pleasant day as they jump about in the water. Yesterday after lunch President Cleveland met rome men at Mr. Benedict's home. The President was warmly congratulated on his crcellent physical condition, and he replied that he felt as well as he looked, having had a very restful summer after the onerous work of last winter. He said that last winter was a very trying one for him. The political complications were touched on generally, the President expressing regret at the condition of the Democratic party.

pressing recret at the condition of the Demo-cratic party.

The meeting lasted for an hour, and then the Chief Executive donned his overcoat and yacht-ing can, and in company with Mr. Benedict and Private Secretary Thurber started for a drive of Putnam Lake, where the President antici-pated sport in trying fishing for bass. Watch-man Chard towed the President into the middle of the lake, and there, for an hour or more, he enjoyed some fine fishing, returning with a well-filled basket. filled basket.

HEARTY WELCOME TO HARRISON. Compelled to Make a Speech to His Neighbors at the Railroad Station.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 8 .- Gen. and Mrs. Harrison rode home from Cincinnati this morning over the "Big Four" Railroad, and were heartily greeted all along the line. At Greensburg and Shelbyville the crowds were large and clamorous for a speech, but only the people at Greensburg succeeded in getting a word, the train pulling away from the stations at other places too quickly.

When the party reached Indianapolis they found the station packed with old friends and followers of the ex-President, and as he descended they gave a mighty cheer. Local politicians took the General by the arm and ted him to the front doorway, toward which the crowd rushed.

The General was highly pleased at the warmth of the greeting he received. Spying an old friend in the crowd named William Jack-son, a venerable raliroad man known by every-body, Gen. Harrison waved his hand at him and called out:

"How are you, Uncle Billy?" The crowd appreciated the pleasantry and demanded a speech. Although his voice showed the effect of much usage, Gen. Harrison responded briefly.

TRYING WAR KITES.

Gayernor's Island Sends a Dummy Soldier Up Into the Sky.

What appeared to be one of Uncle Sam's sol diers, swinging, in somewhat loose-jointed fashion, from the framework of a big aeroplane kite, away up among the puffy, white clouds, attracted the gaze of Battery loungers yesterday afternoon. Inquiry at Governor's Island, above which the kite so gracefully swung, re-above which the kite so gracefully swung, revealed that the dangling object was only a stuffed uniform.

Several hundred feet above and attached to the big kite, which consisted of a double aeropiane, was a smaller kite. The kites were sent up by Lieut. If, D.Wise, and the dummy soldier, weighing ferty pounds, was attached to test the practicability of sending up a real soldier for signal duty.

The kites were modelied by Lieut. Wise, and are said to be improvements on the Hargrave models. The larger kite is nine feet square and weighs sixteen pounds, and the smaller one weighs about five pounds. Within a few weeks a soldier may take the place of the dummy. It is said the lifting capacity of the kites in a monerate breeze exceeds by a good deal the weight of an ordinary man; kites, as aereal signal stations, have the advantage of balloons in not being so vulnerable to boilets.

The ground end of the balf-inch rope holding the kites was made fast yesterday to a windlass. Four men, with their hands alone, were unable to hauf the rope in.

Beserted in the Frozen North.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 8.-The bark Canton, which arrived home from Hudson Bay last evening, reports that at last winter's quarters, 1,000 miles from the nearest divilized settlement, three sailors deserted and attempted to waik to the settlement. They were overtaken by the mate and were taken back to the ship. Charles McGowan, the cook, became separated from the party during a snow storm while on the return trip, and was never seen again.

LIBERAL LEADERSHIP

THE CLURS DID NOT EXPECT ROSE-BERY WOULD RESIGN YET.

Many Liberals Approved His Coolness in s Time of Excitement - Harcourt Not Likely to Be Pully Satisfactory as His Successor-Chamberlain May Loom Up.

London, Oct. 8 .- In the political clubs it was not expected that Lord Rosebery would resign the leadership of his party at present, despite the agitation against him. The advanced Liberals desire a more progressive and aggressive policy, though a large section of the party approve Lord Rosebery's coolness in a time of feverish excitement. Many Liberal members of the House of Commons telegraphed to the offices of the Liberal party in Westminster to day asking for information in regard to Lord Rosebery's withdrawal, and received the reply that the ex-Premier's letter of resignation was wholly unexpected, not even Mr. Ellis, the Liberal whip, to whom his letter of resignation was addressed, having had a hint that it was impending.

The resignation of Lord Rosebery is the sole opic in the Reform and National Liberal clubs. where it is assumed that Sir William Harcourt will succeed to the party leadership, though many of the rank and file say that that will not solve the situation. These persons predict that within a few years the progressive opinion of the country will compel the present Liberal leaders to go with their hats in their hands to Mr. Chamberlain and accept his leadership upon his own terms.

The Star says: "Lord Rosebery has resigned and Sir William Harcourt reigns in his stead. The Liberal party will never again be led by a peer. Mr. Gladstone chose Lord Ro-ebery as his successor to the leadership and it is Mr. Gladstone who has unwittingly deposed him." Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., says in the Sun. "Lord Rosebery never had a fair chance, Whenever he indicated a policy it was immediately thrown over by his supposed colleagues Nevertheless, everybody knows that Mr. Gladstone stood outside of the painful intrigues, odious bickerings, and miserable personalities which defaced and wrecked the Liberal party which defaced and wrecked the Liberal party since his retirement."

The Eventino News says: "Lord Rosebery has played the man. He declines to lead a party the raging and bobtail of which was always barking at his beels. Sheer Ignorance has betrayed the radical rump into the bog in which it is at present wallowing."

The Echo says: "Lord Rosebery throughout has taken a common sense view of the Eastern and Western situation, while the other Liberal leaders have taken narrower and more emotional views. Lord Rosebery's resignation will strengthen Lord Salisbury.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal says: "Lord Rosebery daily gave atriking proof that his views of the forein policy differed from those of his party. His retirement is not a surprise. It is his arrival on the road toward which he has long been travelling."

long been travelling."

Sir William Harcourt, who will probably succeed Lord Rosebery as the leader of the Liberal party, is suffering from an attack of catarrhal party, is suffering from an attack of catarrhai cold.

The Pathy Mall will publish to-morrow an interview with Lord Rosebery at Dalmeny Park, his seat in Edinburgh. The writer says that the ex-Prime Minister looked younger and better than he has for a long time. He fenced every question, turning to irrelevant toples. His only noteworthy remark was in response to an allusion to his audion action in resigning the leadership of the Liberal party. He said: "it was not sudden. The situation had been untenable for some time, and I determined upon this course when Mr. Gladstone assumed his present attitude in certain matters,"

IMPRISONED IN AN ELEVATOR. Inspector McCulingh Suspended Between Two Floors at Headquarters.

The elevator at Police Headquarters got out of order again last night, and for a half hour Acting Inspector McCullagh and Charles J. Lyons, the attendant, were imprisoned in the car between the second and third floors.

McCullagh had relieved Capt. Kilillea, who is doing night duty at Police Headquarters, and he was on his way up stairs to bed. Just as the car left the second floor there was a screeching sound, and the Inspector thought a cat had been caught in the cables when they wound around the drum in the cellar.

Presently the car stopped and the combined efforts of McCullagh and the elevator man did not budge it au inch. The machinist and several laborers were summoned and they began the work of rescue. There was just enough room between the top of the car and the surface of the third floor to squeeze a man's body through. They lowered a stool into the elevator, and by standing on it Mc-Cullagh and Lyons were able to throat their arms through the aperture. Then they were hauled out by the men on the third floor.

The last time the elevators got out of order Lyons nearly lost his life. He was so badly crushed that he was obliged to spend seven weeks in a hospital. It was only a short time ago that he resumed work at Police Hessiquarters. Once before the car got cranky while two women were in it, and it raced up and down several times from ceilar to roof before it could be stopped. laborers were summoned and they began the didn't know where he lived, and that he had bought the boat with money given him by his "honey," who, he said, lived in Liverpool.

A despatch was sent to the lighthouse keeper at Stamford, Conn., inquiring if any hoat was missing from that place. In response James J. Dolan of that place appeared here and claimed the boat, giving such an accurate description of it that there is no doubt that it is his. Dolan said he had never seen the insane man before. He made a charge of grand larceny against the man. Dolan says there are two asylims near Stamford from which Willis might have escaped. The man wors on his coat a button on which was lettered. "Our Representative, J. Mahoney." Willis said he had voted for Mahoney while in Boston. Willia was sent to the Queens county jail pending an inquiry as to his identity.

ONLY TWO WERE SAVED. The Bark Ariadne Dashed Against a Clif-

HALIFAX, Oct. 8.-Green Cove, seven miles from logonish, was the scene yesterday of a marine tragedy. Capt. Paulson of the Norwegian bark Ariadue was driven ashore during a heavy easterly gale. The bark struck close to heavy easterly gale. The bark struck close to an abrupt cliff, and was dashed to pleces a few moments after striking. The sea was running at a fearful height, and ten of the crew of twelve met a watery grave. Those who were not drowned were killed by dashing against the clift. The two who were saved were Second Mate Christian Johansen and Seaman Johannes Raunbaug. The body of the first mate was recovered to-day. Two other bodies were seen, but it was impossible to reach them in the tremendous sea that broke on the cliff. The Ariadne was in ballast from Greenock for Bay Verie. erte.

COL. DOWD TO RESIGN.

The Commander of the Twelfth Regiment Announces His Intention to the Officers. Col. Heman Dowd of the Twelfth Regiment announced at a meeting of the officers at the armory last night that he would send his resignation to the Adjutant-General in a few days The officers received the news with much regret. Col. Dowd is a graduate of West Point gret. Col. Dowd is a graduate of West Point and an ex-officer of the army. The Colonel has contemplated resigning for some time on account of his business responsibilities, but was persuaded to remain in the regiment. He entered the Military Academy as a calot on July 1, 1872, and graduated as a Second Lieutenant. Third Artillery, June 15, 1876, was promoted First Lieutenant Nov. 1, 1881, and resigned June 1, 1883, He was elected Lieutenant-Colonel of the Twelfth Regiment on Maril 29, 1885, and Colonel on Oct. 17, 1889, KENTUCKT'S REGISTRATION.

Large Republican Gains Reported-Mc-Kinley May Get Louisville by 10,000, LOUISVILLE, Oct. 8 .- The registration books were closed at D o'clock to-night in this city, with a total of 41,377 for the three days. This exceeds last year's registration by 4,000. The Republicans are all smiles for they say they are certain to carry the city by 10,000 at the very least.

Last year the Democrats led in the registra tion by 5,000 and lost the city at the November election by nearly 5,000. This year the Republicans lead the Democrats in the registration by 1,708. They had not hoped to lead, as it was known that the majority of National Democrats would register as plain " Democrats." There is an independent registration of 7,251, and it is known from a tally kept in each ward that at least 5,500 of them are National Democrats, half of whom will support McKinley. Besides, even the silver Democrats concede of the 16,159 voters registered as Democrats fully 6,000 will vote against Bryan. McKinley's majority in the city may reach 12,000. Those familiar with the local situation can come very close to making correct estimates on the soundmoney Democratic defection.

The registration out in the State shows heavy Republican gains in all towns heard from, except two or three where the Popocrats gained from a dozen to fifty votes. In many of the larger towns such as Lexington, Frankfort, Newport, and Bowling Green, the Republican gains run from 200 to 600.

STARTING WHEAT TO INDIA. A Steamer Leaves San Francisco with

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.-The steamer H. W. Jarlsburg cleared to-day with 4,500 tons of wheat direct for Calcutta. This puts an end to doubts expressed in regard to chartering of two steamers for India to carry California wheat. The clearance was made on cable order for London. Eppinger, the wheat broker, who handled this ship, has another vessel nearly loaded with an option for India. It may be that the second cargo will not be sent, as private cables have been received here from Bombay saying that rain has fallen in Central India and somewhat improved the grain prospects. Still the drought has been so protracted that rain cannot materially help the harvests. Within three months twenty English tramp steamers, mostly from Chinese and Japanese ports, have been chartered to carry California wheat to Liverpool, and nearly all of them have cleared. During July thirteen wheat vessels of all kinds were cleared; in August twenty-four, and in September forty-one. On Oct. 1 thirty seven ships were in port under engagement to load grain. The liberal engagement of ships is a good thing for the California farmer, as it assures him fair prices for his wheat. The wheat market is excited, as no one knows what a day may bring forth. JOY OF MEETING TOO GREAT.

Aged Mrs. Newmon Returns from Europe and Dies on the Dock.

LAKE STEAMER MISSING.

The Sanalac Casts Off Its Tow and Has Not Been Heard From, EHIE, Pa., Oct. 8 .- There are fears here that the steamer Sanalac of Bay City was lost in the gale which prevailed on Lake Erie on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Sanalac left Buffalo with the barge Oneonta in tow on Monday night for Midland, Ontario. The gale increased in energy, and the steamer and her barge being light, were terribly tossed. On Wednesday afternoon, when about fifteen miles west of Erle, Capt. Hanna of the Sanalac blew signals to Capt. Shean of the barge that he blew signals to Capt. Shean of the barge that he was going to cast off his (Shean's) lines. Capt. Shean wanted him to run for Erie.

Hanna replied that he was staking, and then Shean saw that the crew of the Sanahac were putting pails into the lifeboats preparatory to abandoning her. The Sanahac was headed for Conneaut, O. The air was so fall of snow that the steamer was soon lost from sight.

The Oneonta drifted about and finally saved herself from going on the beach by getting a hold with her anchors.

Mighty Quick Work by the Policemen of BAYONNE, N. J., Oct. 8 .- The police of this place to-night arrested a negro who says be is Frenk Hyde, aged 28, of 220 West Twentyeighth street, New York. He had two bicycles, one belonging to James Thurston, Jr., of 11 Bayview Court, who left his wheel outside a West Eighth street laundry, and the other belonging to Daniel Kenny of 23 Avenue D, which is just around the corner from the laundry. The reports of the thefts were sent in almost simultaneously to the police, and the reserves were sent to incercept the thief. Five minutes later he was caught at Twenty-first street and Avonue D on his way to Jersey City by Patrolmen German, Whalen, and Yore. He told the police that a stranger had offered him $2 to take the wheels to the Pennsylvania Railroad ferry.

The thieves held the door against the policemen, and showed fight when it was finally forced. The sight of the bluecoats' revolvers quickly made them surrender, and they were locked up in the East Sixty-seventh street station.

They described themselves as Louis Goldberg and Morris Goldberg, brothers, and Julius Bidner, all of lidge street. The Goldbergs were recognized as former voice stool pigeons. The three prisoners were held in the Yorkville

A Preacher Arrested on His Bridsl Trip WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 .- Martin I. Rhodes, a Methodist preacher from Flanders, Morris county, N. J., here on his bridal trip, was up in the Washington Police Court this morning charged with destroying public property by charged with destroying public property by chipping some marble from the Washington monument. He came to court with his wife a pretty blonde, dressed in a state-colored walking dress and a stylish tight-fitting box coat. The reverend gentleman confessed his offence with the antedhuvian excuse that the woman asked him to do it. Judge Kimball gave him a severe lecture on the vandalism of his act and fined him $10, which he paid.

HE AND THE CZARINA VISIT THE LOUVRE WITH FAURE.

The Crowds Smaller, but Still Enthusiastic -Nicholas II, Gives $20,000 to the Poor, Orders a Gold Wreath for Carnot's Tomb, and Bestows Many Decorations PARIS, Oct. 8.-The weather to-day was bright, mild, and altogether springlike. The Czar and Czarina drove to the Louvre at 11 o'clock this forenoon and remained an hour examining the pictures and sculpture. Their Majesties were accompanied by President Faure, The route of the imperial visitors through the streets was less thronged with people than was the case yesterday and the day before, public curiosity having become pretty well satisfied but still large numbers gathered along the line and these were onite as enthusiastic as the crowds of the previous days. The Czar looked much better than he did yesterday, having re-covered from his fatigue and regained his normal health. At 6 o'clock this evening the Czar and Czarins and President Faure appeared on a balcony of the Palace of Versailles facing the Tapis Vert, the Palace of Versailles facing the Tapis Vert, which is a long lawn, where they remained for several minutes, their Majestles repeatedly bowing in response to the cheers of the thousands who had been invited to be present. The drosses of the ladies were remarkable for their elegance, and they were thrown into strong relief by the foliage back of them. The scene was altogether a noteworthy one.

The Car and Carina in the afternoon visited the Sèvres porcelain factory and the museum and were greatly interested in what they saw. Their Majestles later went to Versailles, where they arrived at 4:45 P. M. and were received with great enthusiasm.

A brilliant recention was held in the palace, followed by a banquet, after which the imperial party attended a theatrical performance. Among the emiment players were M. Coquelin and Mme. Sarah Bernhardt.

The emeritainment of the Czar at Versailles concluded with a grand display of fireworks and a beautiful illumination of the palace and grounds.

Numerous other French officials have also received decorations.

Upon the arrival of the imperial party at Versallies the lowes sattached to the carriage of M. Cochery, Minister of Finance, became frightened and bested into the crowd, knocking several persons down, five of them being seriously injured.

JAPAN'S FINANCIAL POLICY. Count Matsukata, the New Premier, Will Try to Economize.

Tokto, Japan, Sept. 23.—The Ministerial crisis in Japan has at length been terminated by the appointment of a new Cabinet under the Presidency of Count Matsukata, Nearly three weeks were required to recast the Ministry. As for the policy of the new Ministry Count

Matsukata has to choose between augmenting the revenue by additional taxation or diminishing the expenditures. At present he inclines toward the latter alternative, his plan being to extend from seven to ten years the completion of the programme of military expansion apof the programme of military expansion approved by the Piet last session. The increase of the army to 500,000 men by the year 1902 is, in some respects, a sentimental measure. For a long time to come Japan cannot be in a position to utilize such a force abroad, and she has no apparent beed of it at home. But the nation's statesmen evidently feel a romantic rejustance to bestow upon the navy a greater measure of fostering care than upon the army, though the former certainty needs such attents. ugh the former certainly needs auch atten-i much more than the latter. ence, if Count Matsukata can carry out the modification is contemplates the country's beiligerent capacity will not be impaired and the duancial strain will be sensitly refleved. But he has to anticipate much opposition, and will probably see his proposals defeated by a large majority in the Diet at the close of the

There will then be no alternative except an its leading spirit, Count Okuma, is irrevokably pledged to the system of party Cabinets and cannot, with any semblance of consistency, hold office in deflance of a hostile majority in the lower House. Thus the life of the new Cabinet may be reckoned at some eight months.

No Ministerial Crisis in Spain.

LONDON, Oct. 8. In response to an inquire telegraphed from this city, the Madrid reporter of the United Associated Presses says that there is no Ministerial crisis there. The Central News says that its despatch of last night reporting a 'abluct crisis emanated from the office of the Mairie Inparid.

There seems to be some talk of rearranging the Ministry Sefor Cos-Gayon, Minister of the Interior, taking the portolic of Justice, but it is not known whether this plan will be carried out. This talk, it is believed, was the only basis for the report of a Cabinet crisis.

BLOW WHISTLES ON ELECTION DAY A Scheme to Arouse the Voters to Go to the Polls Early. CHICAGO, Oct. 8 .- Among the visitors at Republican national headquarters to-day was Mr. L. Wise Cook of Newark, N. J. Mr. Cook laid before Mr. Payne a proposition to excite the pariotism of voters. He suggested that every whistle in the factories, mills, and machine shops of Republican towns be started whistling at 6 o'clock on the 3d of November to announce the dawning of the era of prosperity. demonstration is to call the voters to go to the polls early. Mr. Cook's idea is that as the time changes across the continent this demonstraion will practically be continuous across the country, and cannot help but make many laggards go to the polls.

Florence Fowler, 15 years old, who lived with er inther and brothers at 95 Forrest street, Jersey City, has been missing since Wednesday, and her relatives notified the police last night. She is a daughter of Charles Fowler, a clerk in the Comptroller's office in this city. mother died about three years ago, and since then Florence has been keeping house for her father and brothers. She left home at noon on Wednesday. Two letters were found in her

One addressed to her brother Harry informed One addressed to her brother Harry informed him that she was going away and that he would never see her again. The other was addressed to her father. In that she said she was tired of housekeeping and she proposed to start out in the world and make her own living.
Florence is well developed for her age, and looks to be about eighteen years old. When she went away she wore a blue dress, straw hat, and blue sacque. Her father thinks she was influenced to leave home by a woman who has been telling her that she was foolish to be such a drudge.

LEADVILLE MINE OWNERS.

They Propose to Work Their Mines and Are Preparing for Trouble. LEADVILLE, Col., Oct. 8.-The managers of the big mines are completing their fortifications and making preparations to resume work. They are going to operate the mines against all combined resistance from the other side, and positively assert that no man who insists on being a member of the union can find employment on their properties. They say they have had applications from quite a number of men who, on account of their active connection with the union, will not be employed. But the union is helping them out on this line and union offi-cers are using every means to keep not only union but non-union men away from the mines. The Little Johnnie has sixty men at work, the Emmett about ninety, the Bison and Chip about thirty, the Mahala fifteen, and the Resurrection fiteen. Another lot of men are being impacted and Vice-President of "The Block Association," had an encounter with a blowing adder yester-day and came off victorious. The reptile, thirty nches long, was in the yard, where Mr. Lang's children play, and one of the little ones ran to the father crying, "Oh, papa, come see the great big worm in the grass." Mr. Lang saw the snake and despatched it with an are. A few weeks ago M. F. Fosdick, a real estate agent, whose office adjoins Mr. Lang's place, killed a blacksnake that emerged from under his building, which is in the heart of the town within four doors of the Post Office. Three weeks ago there was a great slaughter of snakes near the Sand Hill temetery, in the lower part of the town, forty-seven reptiles of several varieties being left beside the road.

A Blowing Adder, a Blacksnake, and Others Killed by Citizens. HACKENSACK, Oct. 8 .- Andrew Lang, barbe

She had a tussle with the robber, but he maneged to break away and made his escape. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Oher saw a man sauntering along Fifth avenue whom she identified as the burglar, and she shadowed him until a policeman turned up, when she had him arrested. The prisoner said he was Frank Stanton, axed 25 years, of 2032 Atlantic avenue. He says it is a case of mistaken identity.

BROOKLYN ASSESSORS AT FAULT.

Their Assessments on the Surface Railroads are Vacated. The Brooklyn Assessors recently assessed the personal property of the surface railroads for amounts greatly in excess of the values filed by the companies, and the latter brought suits by the companies, and the latter brought suits to have the assessments set aside. Justice Clement yesterday decided in favor of the companies and vacated the assessments, placing the costs against the assessors, who, he says, acted with gross carelessness. These are the companies affected: Atlantic Avenue Company, Brooklyn, Buth, and West End Company, Fronklyn, Heights Company, and Corney Island, Fort Hamilton, and Brooklyn Company.

SUICIDE CLOSES A BANK.

TREASURER MARSH OF GLOUCES.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

TER, MASS., KILLS HIMSELF. He Had Lost His Fortune and Trust Punds

in Speculation and Was Unable to Pace a Shortage-His Resignation Had Been Asked for and He Shot Himself Dead, GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 8,-Shortly before 11 o'clock this forenoon the curtains of the Cape Ann Savings Bank were down the door locked, and a notice posted, saying: "Bank closed balance of the day." This caused considerable inquiry. The officials of the bank gathered and went into the rear room, and the closing of the bank in business hours was discussed. The mystery continued until after 3 o'clock, when the fact could no longer be kept a secret that the Treasurer of the bank, George J. Marsh, had shot himself.

John Strum, janitor of the bank, engaged Charles E. Sawyer to assist him in hauling up a yacht on Mr. Marsn's place. About 12:18, while working about the premises, Mr. March was seen about there, and his footsteps heard as he paced up and down inside the house. Having completed their work, Sawyer proceeded directly up the street. Mr. Strum went with him, but when he reached the summer house left for the purpose of doing some errand. Strum entered the house, and had occasion to left for the purpose of doing some errand. Strum entered the house, and had occasion to visit the coller. He had hardly got down stairs when he saw, lying on the floor, Mr. Marsh dead; alongside of him was a gun.

Mr. Marsh had agreed to attend a meeting of the trustees of the savings bank this forenoon. When the trustees met a letter was found in his handwriting, directed to Sylvester Cunningham, saying that his body would be found in the cellar at his summer house at Annisquam.

W. Wallace Cook was at once sent to Annisquam to verify the contents of the letter, and on arriving there, it is said, found Mr. Marsh pacing the floor of his house. Having seen Mr. Strum about the house, Mr. Cook called to him to keep an eye on Mr. Marsh while he returned to Gloucester. Mr. Strum was not informed of the letter, and Mr. Marsh requested him to go to the village on some errand, and on his return he found Mr. Marsh requested him to go to the village on some errand, and on his return he found Mr. Marsh requested him to go to the village on some errand, and on his return he found Mr. Marsh head.

The Bank Commissioners, it is said, made an examination of the bank yesterday, and it is all right beyond question. It is also said that the Commissioners were summoned by telegraph this afternoon, but nothing to corroborate could be learned. The bank is considered one of the strongest financial institutions in the State, as it has over $1,000,000 on deposit. Mr. Marsh, who had been Treasurer for nearly thirty years, was considered a very shrewd manager.

It is learned, however, that the Savings Bank Examiners a week ago advised the trustees to ask for Mr. Marsh is resignation as Treasurer, and that the meeting to-day was for the purpose of accepting it. Mr. Marsh is said to have been heavily interested in the stock market, and to have lost most of his fortune. The Savings Bank Commissioners to-night announced that hot a dollar of the bank funds has been touched. Last night trustees of various trust funds met, and Mr. Marsh, their

BATTLE'S WON WHEN IT'S WON. Do You Want to Insure Bryan's Defeats-

Get Out and Register. The information of the Republican and the ound-money Democratic National committees regarding the outlook in some of the Western States does not coincide in all particulars. All the reports which come to the Republican managers are rose-colored and indicate that Me-Kinley will sweep most of the so-called doubtful States in the West and middle West. The sound-money Democrats, who are quite as anxious to secure the defeat of Bryan, are much more conservative in their estimates and advice more conservative in their estimates and advise against over-confidence.

It must be said for Senator Quay that he is not responsible for the sort of news which is sent out from the Republican headquarters. The Senator does not believe that a political victory is won until the fruit of victory is in hand. He is not in favor of claiming everything in sight, but rather of going ahead and getting it, and he believes that more can be got by urging his army to its best efforts than by underestimating the strength of the enemy. Although Senator Quay and others connected with headquarters are satisfied that McKinley's election is assured, they are anxious that the victory should be overwhelming, and to that end they do not wish Republicans to relax their efforts in behalf of the ticket, because they may be led to believe that such efforts are not necesary.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Chairman Babcock Estimates a Sounds Money Majority of 32. WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.-Chairman Babcock o

the Republican Congressional Committee to day authorized the following statement to bemade over his signature: "The committee has now received detailed reports from nearly all of the Congress districts, and while there are quite a number of districts that cannot be determined upon at present, owing to various causes, some present, owing to various causes. some with two candidates, others where the question of fusion has not been settled, and others where nominations have not been completed, we have sufficient data to warrant us in saying that the Hepublicans will elect members who are pledged to sound money from 194 districts without any question. These districts I consider absolutely certain, and in addition to this there are about fifty more than caube classed as doubtful, with the probabilities that the majority of them will elect Hepublicans. This insures at this time a working majority of 32.
